

NG GILBERT

N.G. GILBERT

Since 1939, N.G. Gilbert has performed construction, rebuild / up-grade, maintenance and line clearing services for electric power utilities throughout the U.S.

In 1996, NG Gilbert was acquired by The Townsend Corporation, a privately-held company. Founded in 1945, The Townsend Corporation operates in more than 20 states with over 2,000 full-time employees across the United States. The company's early core business of vegetation management and NG Gilbert's power line construction combine to create a powerful services partner for electric utility companies.

N.G. Gilbert is affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (IBEW).

The primary services provided by NG Gilbert include:

- Construction and rebuild of transmission lines 500KV, 230KV, 115KV, 69KV. All Construction types including wood, concrete, and steel pole structures
- Construction and rebuild of substations and Interconnects of 500KV, 230KV, 115KV, 69KV, and 34.5 KV
- Construction and rebuild, and maintenance of overhead and underground distribution lines
- Construction of energy collector systems for wind energy projects, including overhead, underground, and substations as well as tower wiring
- Safety training for tower wiring is based on OSHA requirements for construction standards
- Emergency storm response and restoration services, including an emergency
